

Be Touched by a Dream

As you view the photos, check the ones that particularly touch or engage you. Be careful not to just describe the pictures just for the sake of writing something. However, if a picture does engage you, make a note of what part of the picture actually engages you. Look for the multiple layers in a picture – for example, don't necessarily focus on the fact that a picture may portray an international group of people, but instead look at the activity that is being shown or vice versa.
